By Maria Wise Miller

Nell Carter is one of today's most popular stars both on the stage and on television.

From winning the Tony Award for her starring role in the Broadway production of "AINT MISBEHAVIN'" to her high-spirited performance at the Annual Academy Awards presentation of "Friends Like Me" from the Disney film Aladdin, Nell Carter's rare combination of talent and discipline makes her a hit wherever she goes.

"I love working before a live audience. I enjoy having the immediate reaction to what I do. I like building a rapport with people...I appreciate hearing applause for my success," said Ms. Carter.

The busy entertainer keeps her nightclub act alive and hot with sold-out shows from LA's famous Hollywood Bowl to Las Vegas and the Atlantic City. In addition, she is currently starring in the television series "Hangin' with Mr. Cooper" and she won two Emmy Awards as the star of "Gimme A Break" which ran for six seasons.

Frostproof has an advantage over freezing temperatures

By Mike Lyons

I've been very cranky lately. And, frankly, that's not like me. Usually, I'm a pretty happy fellow. Ordinarily, I've got a smile on my face, a skip in my step and a hearty "hello" for anyone I run across.

Lately, though, I've just been cranky. It's all because of this frigid weather we've been suffering through. First, it was chilly during the Christmas Holidays—a cold snap that seemed to last forever.

Then, the mercury took a tumble again last week as that monster storm painted the Northeast white for the umpteenth time. You know the drill—cold temperatures, gusty winds, and wind chill factors in the teens. Yep, I'm very cranky. I want the heat.

Eventually it will, of course (this is Florida, remember?). Yet, as I put on another sweater the other day, I wondered if there is anyplace in Florida that can escape the cold. In other words, is there any location that is frost proof?

The obvious answer is Key West—the mercury has never dropped below freezing there and probably never will. The warm waters of the Atlantic Ocean and the Gulf of Mexico will insure that from happening.

Yet, I wondered if that principle—warm water—would protect other parts of the state from a freeze. Would the temperate waters of a lake, for example, shield an area from a cold spell? The answer is yes if you ask anyone in Frostproof, Florida.

Frostproof is a town of 2,850 very warm souls nearly surrounded by lakes. "Our city is shaped like an hour glass," said city manager Roger Hood. "Lake Clinch is to our west, Lake Reddy to the east, Silver Lake is due south and Lake Ida is to our northeast."

Mr. Hood says the four lakes provide an insulation from cold weather. Sure, it gets chilly in Frostproof but the warm waters of the nearby lakes seem to keep the very cold air outside of the town. "During the '89 freeze our fruit trees experienced some damage," Mr. Hood said. "But, it was much worse in areas to our north and south."

Frostproof got its name following one of the worst cold spells in Florida history. It was the "Big Freeze" of 1894-95—a winter so cold that most of the state's vegetable, pineapple and citrus crops were destroyed.

Except, it seemed, around the town of Lakemont. The four lakes provided enough of a maritime influence to protect the crops in the Polk County community. The local residents joked that the town was frost proof. The name stuck and Lakemont, Florida officially became Frostproof, Florida in 1906.

It is a meteorological fact that local environmental conditions do make a big difference in the frequency of freezes in our state. Besides Frostproof, there are dozens of other locales that enjoy a reputation for being a bit warmer compared with their neighbors. The warm waters of a nearby lake can have a big influence on the temperature.

Still, only one town—Frostproof—has changed its name to make a point. Mr. Hood says local residents are proud of their town's name even if some folks get it mixed up.

One of Frostproof's most famous residents is Alvin Harper, the football player for the Tampa Bay Buccaneers. A few years ago Mr. Harper was playing in the Super Bowl for the Dallas Cowboys.

"Alvin made a great catch in the game," Mr. Hood said. "Then, the announcer told the world that Alvin was born in FrostBITE not Frostproof Florida."

Frostbite or Frostproof? It doesn't matter to me as long as it's warm.

Semester exams are over and Glades Day students can breathe a sigh of relief now that they have the first half of the year behind them. While some may be happy with their efforts, others are deciding to buckle down and raise that GPA so that it will be easier to get into the college of their choice.

Breadbasket lovers take note: The National Honor Society is sponsoring a PANCAKE BRUNCH that will be held from 9:30 a.m. until 1 p.m., Saturday, Feb. 3 at the First Baptist Church of Belle Glade. The brunch, which will be eat-in only, will consist of pancakes, sausage, cooked apples and beverages. Tickets are $4 each and are available from any NHS member or call the high school office at 996-6769.

Congratulations are in order for seventh grader Becky Outz, who finished in first place in overall Social Studies in the West Area Academic Games Competition. Becky is one of several GDS students who are competing in the areas of math, social studies and language arts this year.

February is the month for sweethearts, and the Student Council is counting on that to draw a crowd of students to a couple of dances next month. A junior high dance for GDS students in grades 7-8 will be held from 8-11 p.m. Friday, Feb. 9 in the Tripp Hall cafeteria. Advance tickets will be available beginning Feb. 1 for $3 for single and $6 for couple. Tickets at the door will be $5 each.

Girls in grades 9-12 will have the chance to ask the guys for a date to the "Sadie Hawkins" dance to be held from 9 p.m. until midnight on Friday, Feb. 23. The dress will be country — rolled up shorts, overalls, cowboy hats, etc. are fine. As with the junior high dance, advance tickets will be $3 per person or $5 per couple; or you may wait and pay $5 each at the door. Interested students may see Student Council sponsor Barbara Scruggs for tickets.

Those who haven't made it to the West Campus gym for the basketball games this year are missing out on some exciting action, including the junior high boys 25-23 win over Moore Haven last Wednesday. With six teams playing (Junior High JV and varsity for both boys and girls), it seems like there's always a game going on. The regular season ends in a couple of weeks (Feb. 10) and then the varsity teams will be involved in district tournaments. Come on out and watch the action before it's too late.

Farah Guchani Rosenberg recognized as unsung hero

Five residents of Palm Beach and Martin Counties have been selected as the 1996 Dwight Allison Fellows Program awardees by the Community Foundation for Palm Beach and Martin Counties and each will receive an unrestricted grant of $5,000 in recognition of their outstanding contributions to the community.

Included in the awardees is Farah Guchani Rosenberg of Belle Glade. Inspired by her faith, Mrs. Rosenberg devotes much of her time to bridging the gap in human relations among races. An architect, Mrs. Rosenberg took time off from her career two years ago to work with families and youth in Belle Glade. She was instrumental in establishing a Children's Institute in the Glades to instill within each child an awareness of his or her own nobility and self-worth. She conducted a weekly youth academy focused on developing moral and spiritual understanding that youth may apply to their own lives. Subsequently, she trained others as mentors to work with youth in the Glades. She also initiated a Women's Institute to help empower women to attain their full potential as caregiver and educator of their children. Mrs. Rosenberg works with the Interfaith Coalition and the Youth Celebrates Unity program in order to promote the message of universal peace, unity in diversity and spiritual awareness. Her vision is to help others have a vision for themselves. Mrs. Rosenberg has inspired many children and adults to understand their connection to, and love for, humanity.

Swiss Scientists Discover New Energy Product

Legends Switzerland—After 25 years of research Lightning Ball was developed with the help of Swiss Laboratories. After extensive testing with amazing results, Lightning Ball is now available in the United States. Scientists are amazed at Lightning Ball's results in improved memory, attitude and athletic performance.

In a double blind cross-over trial on university students in Italy, Lightning Ball was given twice daily for 12 weeks. The results were astounding. Students obtained higher scores in math, logic and physical education.

This new discovery has been a wind-fall for working and active people that want to run short of energy around mid-afternoon and need a little extra lift. Lightning Ball when taken in the morning gives a sustained, balanced form of energy throughout the day.

During an interview in Chicago, a business man, "I need to go home calm after being on my feet all day. Now it's just impossible. I go home with extra energy and really enjoy my family more."

Call the President

"I was just reading your article about Mr. Myers turning 100 on Jan. 26. I don't know if you know it, but the president will make a telephone call to someone who is over 100 years old.

I don't know if there is enough time to get in touch with President Clinton, but I understand that after age 80, they can get a card from the White House and when someone is 100, they can get a personal phone call.

It would be awfully nice if someone could do that - call the White House or something. If he's a World War One Veteran, I think it would be great!"

Answer should have come from city officials

"I have an interesting question about the Speak Out from a couple of week's ago. I think it was concerning a group that was trying to form in Pahokee called the CPR.

I thought that was addressed to the city as far as the question and the problem? Why did the lady who runs the Pahokee Chamber of Commerce answer for them? That's pretty strange, but pretty typical, I suppose. Thank you."

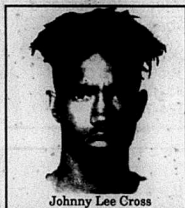

Editor's note: I asked Mrs. Thompson with the Chamber of Commerce to respond to the CPR call a few weeks ago because I knew the chamber was working on Pahokee revitalization through the Charettee and local clubs and organizations.

Guest Commentary

The following is a statement made by third generation Glades Farmer Fritz Stein at the Leadership Glades Agricultural Session, Jan. 17. It is printed here in its entirety with Mr. Stein's permission.

My name is Fritz Stein and I'm a third generation food producer in the Glades. Along with my family, we grow sugarcane and raise cattle.

Since coming to the Glades our family has weathered hurricanes, droughts, fire, pestilence, depressions, booms, world wars and the periodic review and re-authorization of the Farm Bill.

My great uncle wandered off into the Everglades sometime in 1914. He wrote a letter to my grandfather telling him to sell everything you own in Manatee County and move to the Glades. He said you can plant a seed in this soil and it will bear fruit without adding any fertilizer. The Everglades Agricultural Area is an almost perfect place for the cultivation of sugarcane to produce sugar, one of America's basic commodities. We are blessed with flat topography, abundant rainfall, adequate sunshine, and some of the richest soil found anywhere in the world. I make my living farming this good earth and I believe feeding people is the most honorable and satisfying profession performed anywhere in the world.

Let me take a minute and tell you about how I got started farming sugarcane and my first-hand experience with the U.S. sugar policy.

First, I started growing vegetables and we had boom or bust years. Then when I had the opportunity to grow sugarcane, I jumped at it. We needed stability in our operation and it made sense to pool our resources as a group of us Glades farmers formed Sugar Cane Growers Cooperative of Florida in 1960.

Now 56 members strong, it continues to be the centerpiece of my operation.

In 1962, when we ground our first crop, the U.S. Sugar Policy consisted of proportionate share acreage and compliance payments. The program continued to operate this way until 1974 when Congress suspended the program. And guess what happened? The price of sugar skyrocketed reaching 64.5 cents per pound in November 1974. The large food manufacturers' sugar ingredient costs priced which led to higher product prices. Then world overproduction in for the Treasury over the next five years. NAFTA reforms removes trade barriers to the U.S. market for Canadian and Mexican sugars over a 15-year phase out period. But from the farmer's perspective, the most significant reform over the last 14 years has been the drastic drop in the real, inflation adjusted price the farmer receives for his sugar cane. The only way the sugar farmers and processors of America have been able to stay in business is by becoming much more efficient.

And further, let's look at who really is complaining about our domestic sugar policy. Is it consumers? No. It's the large industrial users who want to improve their bottom line. This debate is about multi-million dollar companies' profits.

My opponents want to undo all that my family and fellow farmers have done in providing an abundance of high quality sweetener at bargain prices. My opponents haven't been out in the fields to experience the satisfaction of growing a crop to feed my fellow Americans.

My opponents end their days surveying unnatural urban vistas while I go home and wash the soil, we fondly call muck, off my skin and out from under my nails. My opponents look out at the world with a goal of growing bigger and bigger profits. I only want to produce sugar...to be a farmer, to produce important food and fiber for my fellow Americans.

My opponents measure their lives in market shares and profits while I plow, plant, harvest and wait for the next season. Then, I start all over again. I can compete head-on with any grower anywhere in the world. What I can't compete with is foreign governments who highly subsidize their growers. The food producers of this country deserve and need a level playing field that will deliver fair trade and which will hopelessly lead to free trade. So please don't give our markets away while we wait for free trade.

In closing, I want to make a brief comment on a recent study done by the Cato Institute. The Institute recently asserted that the American sugar policy is an example of "corporate welfare." Well, this certainly comes as a surprise to me and the many other members of Sugar Cane Growers Cooperative of Florida as well as the 420,000 people who rely on the U.S. sweetener industry for a living.

Pahokee Blue Devils take Derek Harper Holiday Classic by storm

In grand style and with lots of ease the Pahokee Blue Devil cagers claimed the championship at Palm Beach Lakes High School before more than two thousand fans Friday night.

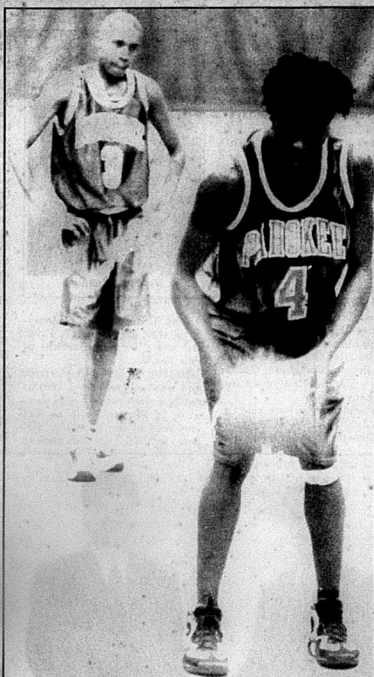

Telvis Lawler, tournament Most Valuable Player, was joined by teammates Telly Jackson and Roy Smith on the All Tournament team. The three combined for 241 of the 329 points in the four game run for the championship.

Lawler displayed his all around talent in playing all facets of the game hitting three pointers as well as lay ups and pushing the team to an up tempo beat.

Telly Jackson penetrated the other teams and hit jumpers with ease. Roy Smith ended the last game just as he had begun the first with a three point goal that always electrifies the crowd. Smith hit twelve three point goals in the four games.

Mr. Excitement, Alonzo Baker, added the dunks, blocks and defensive power needed to keep the other teams frustrated. Rotating players Calvin Fountain, Kovey Jones, Richard Bryant, Roland Jackson, Erick Turasz, Henry Pickens, Dexter Smith and Nathaniel Thomas provided the needed talent to keep the game fun and out of the opponents reach.

The series scores were; Pahokee 76- Santaluca 50; Pahokee 89- Jacksonville Paxson 72; Pahokee 79 - Goose Creek (S.C.) 62; Pahokee 85- Deerfield Beach 66.

1993 Glades Central graduate is making tracks for the Panthers

Steven Smith - Does this name ring a bell?

Well, think back to the special team talent and the quarterback skills he displayed while anchoring wins for the Glades Central Raiders in 1993.

Steven Smith was the starting wide receiver for the Chaffey College Panthers whose record was 0-3. The coach, Carl Ferrill, made a change that turned the season around for the Panthers and led them to the first bowl game in the school's 73-year history. Coach Ferrill asked Steven to quarterback for the Panthers and the team rolled on to win six of the last seven games played. Their record being 6-1.

The Panthers also won the Upland Inland Valley Bowl 29-7 over Rancho Santiago.

Steven completed 49 percent of his passes and has been intercepted only 12 times. He rushed for 811 yards (in seven games as quarterback) and holds nine touchdowns. He was third in the conference in total offense with 1,580 yards; third in all-purpose yards with 1,201 yards; and fifth in punt returns with 11.1 yards per return.

Steven was named the Foothill Conference Offensive Player of the year. His plans for the future are to sign with a Division I school.

The annual 1996 South Florida Fair ends January 28.
Don't miss the excitement!

I hope winter is about over. The fish are tired of the cold fronts and so am I.

With the warmer temperatures this past week, the fish finally started biting again. The hardest part is finding good clean water to fish in. There is very little clean water on the south end of the lake. There is some good water and some nice fish on the west wall. To find an area of good water with any size, you have to travel to the north part of the lake.

The Monkey Box, Moonshine Bay and Fisheating Bay are for the most part, in good shape and producing good fish on a variety of baits. The biggest factor in making a lure choice will be the wind. When the wind blows, use an action bait such as a spinner bait or Kettle Tug. When the wind lays, top water or plastic worms will work well.

The next F.L.W. Tournament will be back on Lake Okechobee, Feb. 5 - Feb. 9. It will be held at the Okeetantsee Recreation Area on the north side of the lake. You can bet the lake will again be busy and area businesses will be full.

Bobby Bare and Little Jimmie Dickens will be in Clewiston this week to spend several days fishing with me. They really like Lake Okechobee and never fail to mention the lake on television.

With all the bad weather up north, we should see a lot of folks in town for the next several months. Please make them welcome to our area.

To all a good bite,
Walt Reynolds

Police Athletic League rewards football players with trophies

After playing a hard season, each Police Athletic football player received a trophy to honor their hard work.

"We would like to thank Steve Moore for sponsoring the team. It is because of him that we were able to compete," said Coach Brandt Bates.

In Nov. the Police Athletic League went to Atlanta to compete in a national tournament. They placed second in the heavyweight division of the Shriner's Bowl.

In August we plan to start the teams again. This year we are going to try to get Clewiston involved too," added Coach Bates.

Mike Surman wins fully-rigged Ranger Boat with Johnson Motor in the FLW fishing tournament

By Paula Whitehead

Mother Nature seemed to be in a bad mood Tuesday morning, when over 300 fishermen and women left the boat basin in Clewiston to begin the first FLW Pro/Am four day fishing tournament.

With temperatures dropping into the low 30's, and a strong northerly wind, fishing was tough. But it proved to be a good day for Dave Dickens of Sarasota, who weighed in a 7 lb. 3oz. bass to win the Big Fish pot on the amateur side. Leonard Jones of Titusville, brought in a 6lb. 7oz. bass for the Pro side. Mike Surman took the lead the first day with a total weight of 15 lb. 2 ozs.

The weather improved for the second day, but unfortunately for some, the fishing did not. By process of elimination only the top 10 on both Pro and Amateur sides will fish on the third day. Pro-Angler Peter Thilvros (Peter-T), brought in a 17 lb. 6 oz. stringer of bass and moved into the lead with a two-day total weight of 30.1 lbs., putting Mike Surman in second place.

Steve Daniels of Clewiston, landed a 10 lb. 5 oz. lunker to secure Big Fish on the Pro side. Neil Coomes, came down from Troy, Michigan to fish the tournament on the amateur side and after two days of fishing, held the lead with a two-day combined weight of 7 lb. 11 ozs.

Thursday, the top ten on both sides along with camera crews from ESPN2 left from the boat basin. This would determine the top 5 pros, and would be the final day for the amateurs. Randy Hoedt of Tampa, weighed the largest stringer of the day on the Pro side with a total weight of 20 lb. 4 ozs., Mike Surman of Boca Raton, took second with 9 lb. 8 ozs., John Leech of Fruitland Park, was third with 6 lb. 9 ozs. and Mark Bozeman of Silver Springs, clinched the fifth position with 4 lb. 10 ozs.

Friday, the final day: First place wins a fully-rigged Ranger 482 Bass Boat. The weather was fair, and so was the fishing, it only took 11lb. 1oz. to take home the boat.

Mike Surman of Boca Raton was the man to get the job done. Mike said, "I fish every tournament possible and 90 percent of them are on Lake Okechobee." He said this gives him an edge, he knows the lake and the patterns of the fish.

John Leech of Fruitland Park, who was in third place on Thursday took over the second place spot with 6 lb. 7 ozs., second place paid $5,000.

Mark Bozeman of Silver Springs, brought in 2 lb. 15 ozs. and this was enough for third place and a $4,000 purse. Fourth place was taken by Thursday's leader Mark Hoedt with one fish weighing 1 lb. 7 ozs., this fish was worth $3,500, and Robert Walser weighed in no fish, but still won fifth and took home a nice sum of $3,000.

You do not have to be a professional fisherman to enter this and other tournaments. All you must do is have a boat, (even if you have to borrow one), and pay your entry fees.

To fish on the amateur side, all you have to do is pay your entry fees, you don't even need a boat, you fish with a pro in their boat.

The next tournament on the FLW Trail will be held at Okeetantsee, Feb. 6-9.

For more information on how you can get involved with fishing Bass tournaments, call on the local marinas.

World's Biggest Motor (NAPS) - The world's largest motor, a 100 Megawatt (135,000 HP) adjustable speed drive and motor system has been ordered by NASA for a wind tunnel retrofit.
About twice as large as any adjustable speed drive system in the world, the drive measures 38 feet by 30 feet by 22 feet and the motor measures 18 feet by 22 feet by 20 feet and weighs 365 short tons.
They will be provided by ABB. The $23 million project is scheduled for completion in December 1997.

"ABB's proposal was determined to have the best value for the government. Their equipment will help us achieve faster, more reliable operation at a lower cost," says Sandra S. Ray, Contracting Officer, NASA Langley.

By replacing three existing motors (which can deliver 130,000 HP) with ABB's adjustable speed drive and motor system, NASA can test aircraft throughout a much wider windspeed range than previously possible.

Anders G. Troedson, ABB's Director of Sales & Marketing, says that "Even though this motor and drive is of unprecedented size, it is a lower risk approach because it uses ABB's mature technology and proven system component."
